

Adhesives... Made to Order!

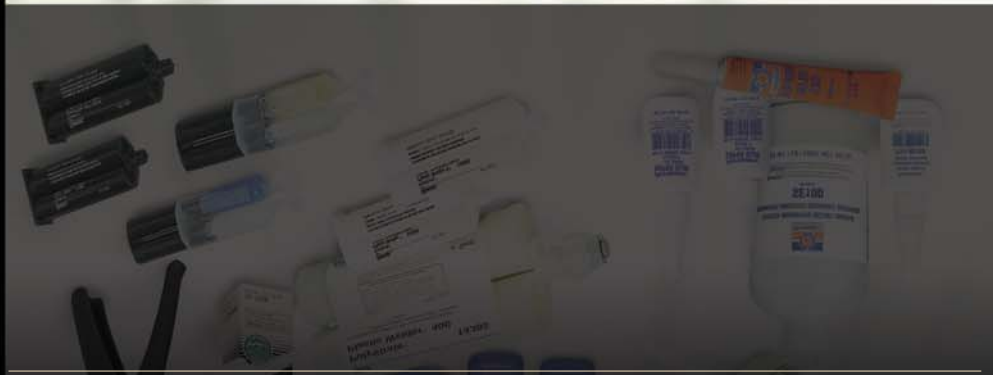

Most cooks have access to the same ingredients, but world-class chefs have the knowledge and experience to use these ingredients to achieve exceptional results.

And although many adhesive suppliers offer a full line of products, few take the time to fully understand your most demanding bonding challenges.

Devcon adhesive engineers have the expertise and experience to recommend the best adhesive for your particular application and to show you how to maximize its performance and cost saving potential.

So, challenge us with your most difficult bonding application. Devcon adhesive experts will recommend the best Devcon® or Permatex® adhesive and dispensing method, provide bonded samples, and even train your people.

The other guys will sell you an adhesive; Devcon will work with you every step of the way to deliver a complete bonding solution.
